

Bath Time Travellers

Georgians & Victorians Objects Challenge

- Bath was a very popular place in the 1700s and 1800s. People came to swim in the healing waters and go to lots all dances! We might think that the clothes and accessories they wore look a bit odd to us today but what we wear now would probably be strange to people 200 years ago.
- Staff at the Fashion Museum look after these objects that the Georgians and Victorians left behind – use your investigative skills to work out what they are.

Here are some things from the Fashion Museum.

You might need to ask yourself these questions:

- What colour is it?
- What might it feel like?
- What is it made from?
- How big is it?
- How was it made?
- Would it be comfortable to wear?
- How is it decorated?
- Who might have worn it?
- Does it look like anything we might wear today?
- Would you like to wear it? Why? Why not?

Have you worked out what they are? Explore more on the Fashion Museum website: <https://www.fashionmuseum.co.uk/>

Investigate: <https://www.fashionmuseum.co.uk/collection>
https://www.pinterest.co.uk/fashion_museum/

